HEAVY FROST KILLS FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

Much Loss Occasioned In This Section By Freezing Weather
Of Saturday Night.

Fruit, vegetables and unprotected tobacco plants were killed as if cut off with a sharp blade, by the heavy frost and freeze of Saturday night. The loss to the fruit growers and truck farmers in this part of the State is very heavy, and great disappointment is heard on all sides, for everything seemed to give promise of bumper crops this year.

The frost was one of the heaviest ever seen in this section, for the night was very clear. The thermometer which had been hovering very low all day Saturday, fanned by chilly winds, went down rapidly by nightfall, and a skim of ice a quarter of an inch thick was found in some places Sunday morning. All growing vegetables were nipped off short at the ground, about the only ones not killed outright being onions and peas. Some truck gardeners had beans about ready to blossom, and the prospect for a heavy fruit crop in this section had been splendid.

Some uneasiness is felt among tobacco growers in this section as to the outcome of the tender young plants, which may not have been fully protected. Authorities say that where the canvas is laid directly on the plants and ground and not slightly raised by rails around the bed, there is great danger of loss from frost, and if this should prove to have been the case, the loss will be very heavy in this county.

Hillenmeyer, the Lexington fruit authority, says: "The frost was one of the most disastrous within my recollection and the fruit crop of Kentucky is universally blighted."

Cleared $51.50.

Baptist Ladies of Crab Orchard To Give Another Play.

The ladies of the Baptist church at Crab Orchard cleared $51.50 with their play, "The Time of His Life," given there last week. They will give another next Thursday night, entitled "The Modern Sewing Society," in which Miss Marie Mahony, of this city, will sing a solo and Russell Brown will give a negro dialect stunt. A crowd of Stanford people attended the performance last week and were greatly pleased. The proceeds go towards purchasing a new carpet for the church.

Assessment Stands.

No Raise Will Be Made By State Board This Year.

Lincoln county's assessment for taxation this year, which was raised about $400,000 by the board of supervisors, will not be further raised by the state board of equalization. It has accepted the assessment as fair. Among the counties whose local assessment was accepted are:

Adair, Barren, Boyle, Bullitt, Carlisle, Casey, Clark, Greenup, Hart, Knox, Knott, Lincoln, Madison, Martin, Menefee, Mercer, Monroe and Nelson.

Celebrates 90th Birthday.

Mrs. Eliza Hoskins Farris, of Lancaster, on Saturday celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary at the home of her great niece, Mrs. Joe E. Robinson. Mrs. Farris is a historic personage in that she was as the Florence Nightingale of Camp Dick Robinson, of Civil War times, and many are the interesting reminiscences she can relate. Her parents' home was just across the road from the famous Federal station, and Mrs. Farris met and mingled with Gen. Thomas, Sherman, Nelson, Landrum, Frye and other military notables.

Killing at Somerset.

Joe Woods and James Zachery, well-known residents of Somerset, engaged in a quarrel and Zachery was struck over the head with a plank. His wound was dressed and he went about his business. In exactly six hours after he was struck he fell suddenly to the ground and expired. The men were brothers-in-law.

It's The World's Best.

No one has ever made a saive, ointment or balm to compare with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It is the one perfect healer of Cuts, Corns, Burns, Bruises, Sores, Scalds, Boils, Ulcers, Eczema, Salt Rheum, For Sore Eyes, Cold Sores and Chapped Hands, or Sprains, it is supreme. Infalible for Piles. Only 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

Mark Jennings, confined in jail at Lancaster without bail for killing Geo. McCowan at Bryantville, recently, slashed his throat with a small piece of glass, but without doing himself much damage. He is believed to be insane.

TO START WORK ON BIG WAREHOUSE.

John Baughman to Put up Building to Handle Five Million Pounds of Tobacco.

John S. Baughman will have work started at once breaking ground for the large handling and prizeing warehouse which he will build for the reception of the immense crop of tobacco which will be raised in Lincoln county this year. He has leased the warehouse for three years, with the privilege of five, to W. P. Kincaid, who has most of the crop raised in this county. Mr. Kincaid says that he expects to handle 5,000,000 pounds of tobacco out of Lincoln county this season.

The warehouse will be built on Mr. Baughman's property adjoining the L. & N. railroad, and will be 70x140 feet in dimensions. It will accommodate two presses and two sets of scales and Mr. Kincaid says that he expects to receive and prize 50 hogheads a day there. He will work from 25 to 50 men in the warehouse during the busy season.

Mr. Kincaid says that owing to the immense crop being raised south of the Kentucky river this year, and which is all out of the pool, practically, he does not expect to see the price of tobacco as high as last year, when he paid an average of about 15 cents per pound for all he bought.

Thorough Cleaning

Is Given The Old Town--Promoters Warmly Praised.

The members of the Women's Civic Improvement Club and of the City Council are receiving the warmest praise on all sides for the unqualified success of their cleaning-up movement. Already about 40 wagon loads of trash have been hauled out of town and the wagons are still working. Everyone seemed willing to co-operate. Macksville was cleaned like it has not been in years, and the old town has been given a spring cleaning of the most thorough sort.

Halls Gap Sunday-School.

Reorganized And Work Is Progressing At Rowland.

A re-organization of the Sunday-school of Fairview Baptist church was effected Sunday afternoon, with the following officers in charge: Superintendent, Mr. Meadows; assistant, Mr. Jno. Carter; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Rice. Teachers were also elected and plenty of good literature provided. The church seems to be taking on new life, the building is soon to be completed and next Saturday all are to meet and give the church a good spring cleaning. The Sunday-school meets every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and they also hope to have preaching twice a month. New trustees will be elected at the Rowland church next Sunday afternoon. Already the Sunday-school has enrolled about 60 members.

Two Operettas

Will Be Given By School Children On April 29.

The pupils of the Stanford Graded and High School will give two operettas at the opera house, on the evening of April 29th. "The Whole Year Round," by Marzocchi and "The Peppery Pa," by Geibel are the selections. There are about 75 characters. The music is very lively and of high grade. This will be one of the nicest entertainments of the kind ever given in Stanford and the teachers all hope that every one will reserve this date to attend.

Kills A Murderer.

A merciless murderer is Appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing constipation, headache, biliousness, chills. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

Good Job For Pulaskian.

Superintendent of Schools Regenstein has appointed L. N. Taylor, former school superintendent of Pulaski county, as first clerk in his office to succeed T. W. Vinson, who has been promoted to the chief clerkship.

GRAND OLD MAN OF GARRARD AND HIS GREAT-GRANDSON

A dispatch from Lancaster says that: "One of the most remarkable men of Garrard county is John V. Leavell, who celebrated his 93rd birthday March 21. He is truly termed Garrard's 'Grand Old Man' as both his mental and physical powers are remarkably well preserved, he being able to talk by the hour of the many interesting incidents in his long and active career. He can go back and give the platforms of every presidential campaign. He was in his young days an old line Whig, but being a Southern sympathizer, later became a staunch democrat."

He is the only remaining organizer of the First National Bank of Lancaster, and was its president from 1870 to 1872, and for many years one of its directors. He is the only surviving county commissioner who built the present Garrard county court house, and the only living member that negotiated the extension of the Kentucky Central (now the Louisville & Nashville) from Rowland to Richmond.

Mr. Leavell in his prime was both a successful farmer and financier, owning several hundred acres of the best land of upper Garrard. He was also a leading stockman and is one of the very few remaining who sent stock South on foot, and was such an extensive dealer that he almost governed the market in this section.

Horse Killed.

Two young men who came through town Sunday about noon on motorcycles scared a loose horse on the Danville pike so badly that he backed off the abutment at the covered bridge and was killed. This place has been unprotected ever since the pikes were freed. The horse belonged to George Hays.

The Markets.

CINCINNATI, April 25.—Cattle—Receipts 270; market steady; fair to good shippers 6.65 to 7.75; common 2.75 to 5.25. Hogs—Receipts 1,000; market active, 15 to 20c higher on 100 pounds; butchers and shippers 9.55 to 9.60; common 7.75 to 9.40. Sheep—Receipts none; market steady; 4.25 to 6.40. Lambs—Market steady, 6.25 to 8.40.

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There is a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed, and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surety the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Group—all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1; trial bottle free at Penny's Drug Store.

Killed By Falling Tree.

While walking under a tall tree on the Anderson farm near Stewart, 12 miles west of Danville, George Russell, a farmer, was killed by a falling limb, and Mark Deering was dangerously injured.

Mrs. Robert Boyle, the wife of Esquire Boyle, of Lancaster, is considered dangerously ill of paralysis. Some 12 years ago she suffered a stroke and has been a helpless invalid ever since, being confined to her chair all of the time.

Mr. Leavell has, also, the most unusual record of having lived to see the seventh generation, well remembering his great-grandfather, himself being a great-grandson.

From a physical standpoint, Mr. Leavell is clearly a scion of a pioneer stock, with all its vigor and fine material development. He is 6 1/2 feet tall and has weighed over 200 pounds.

This aged Garrardite is the father of ten children, seven of whom are still living, and are as follows: A. D. Leavell, Walker Leavell, Miss Belle Leavell, Mrs. John Francis, of Lancaster, John Leavell, of Pecos, Texas, Mrs. Jennie Armstrong, of Frankfort, and Mrs. Jasper Bogie, of Indianapolis.

He has 30 grand children, and also a large number of great-grandchildren. The unusually bright little lad of the picture is his great grandchild, representing with Mr. Leavell the extremes of four generations. He is Master Henry Clay Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jennings, of Pecos, Texas; Mrs. Jennie Armstrong, of Frankfort; Mrs. Jasper Bogie, of Indianapolis.

To War On Tuberculosis.

A mass meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, in charge of the physicians of the city, at which the war upon tuberculosis will be discussed, and an effort be made to enlist the hearty co-operation of the people of Stanford. It is expected that all of the churches will close their doors, so that the congregations may attend this meeting. Something may also be said about the fight to prevent typhoid fever.

Hustonsville Honor Roll.

The honor roll of the Hustonsville graded school for the month just past is as follows:

Anna Floyd, Paul Willis, Marion Lippis, Allen R. Evans, Dunn Sandidge, Walter Murphy, Lena Russell, Mamie North, Malinda Nave, Mary Stagg, Lizzy Ashley, Roberta Blain, Ray Murphy, Nellie Allen, Jessie Girdler, Abbie Dugger, Laura Sandidge, Harmon Barker, Earl Wright, Virginia Grubbs, Mabel Russell, Mary Skinner, Alfred Tucker.

Reaching The Top.

In any calling of life demands a vigorous body and a keen brain. Without health there is no success. But Electric Bitters is the greatest Health Builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work. "After months of suffering from kidney trouble," writes W. M. Sherman, Me., "three bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." 50c at Penny's Drug Store.

Delegates to Conference.

Rev. J. J. Dickey and wife go to Richmond today to attend the Danville District Conference. T. D. Haney and Sam Matheny are delegates from the Stanford church and Samuel Roberts from the Logan Creek church.

News has been received by Garrard relatives of the death of Mrs. Jennie Eastman, at Columbus, O. Mrs. Eastman, who was a niece of the late Mrs. Kinnaid, of Lancaster, and who was called there by the fatal illness of her aunt about two months ago, just returned to Ohio last week, where she died suddenly of heart disease.

WIN THEIR FIFTEENTH STRAIGHT VICTORY

Stanford Nine Defeat Lancaster
On Latter's Grounds By Score
Of 16 to 3.

The Stanford High School team gave their old time Lancaster rivals the whipping of their lives in a game played on Lancaster's own grounds Friday afternoon and won their 15th straight victory. The final score was 16 to 3 and the score eloquently tells the tale of the difference between the two nines. The Lancaster boys are coming here next Friday, however, and will have several new men, and promise to make a great effort for revenge.

The Stanford players so far outclassed their rivals that a complete story of the game would fill a volume. All of the Stanford players had their batting eyes with them. They slaughtered Herron for four innings, piling up a total of 16 hits and 13 runs. Schooler, who succeeded him, fared a trifle better, but the sluggers would not be denied, and continued the run making. In the fourth inning the team batted around, Joe Hill getting singles each time he came up. Every man was on his toes during the game, but Wesley Embry was undoubtedly the star. Out of five times up he hit safely four times and smashed out a corking three bagger in the third inning with the bases filled. Besides his splendid stick work, young Embry pitching for Stanford, held the opposing team to two hits, neither of which they would have had, had his support been faultless. As it was the Stanford lads played gilt edged ball both at the bat and in the field, and proved the splendid work which Coach Arthur Long has done in teaching them the "inside" game.

Harris Coleman batted like a fiend, slamming out five singles out of six times up, while Tom Bright doubled twice. Two fast double plays were pulled off by the Stanford fielders, the second in the ninth inning, cutting off a score.

The Lancaster team played a nice game but were out-classed. Prof. Bridges, the superintendent of the school, remarked to Prof. Ireland: "You have no prep. team here; this is a college team," which was considered quite a compliment in view of the fact that not one of the Stanford players is over 18 years of age, and five of them are only 16. McRoberts put up the best all-round game for Lancaster. The attendance was very good, the grounds being enclosed and with a nice grand stand, something which is badly needed here. The box score tells the story of the massacre:

The crack Harrodsburg High School team has been scheduled for a game here against the Central Kentucky champions on May 14. The Times of Saturday and Courier Journal of Sunday both had pictures of the Stanford nine, but printed so poorly the members were indistinguishable.

WANT PHYSICIANS IN PRESIDENT'S CABINET.

Central Kentucky Medical Men Go
On Record Here—Guests Of Dr. Carpenter.

The Central Kentucky Medical Society convened in the parlors of the St. Asaph Hotel Thursday at 10 a. m. Dr. J. G. Carpenter, the retiring president, called the Society to order. Blessings of the Deity were invoked by the Rev. J. J. Dickey, who was a guest, with Revs. Walker and Hoskins.

Dr. J. H. Kinneir, of Lancaster, the president-elect, was promptly inducted into office and called for the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, which were read by Secretary Dr. Tom Price, of Harrodsburg, and accepted.

Dr. J. G. Carpenter, of Stanford, delivered a brief and spicy valedictory on the inscription on the Kentucky Coat of Arms—"United We Stand, Divided We Fall"—which was enjoyed; discussed briefly by the members and Rev. Dickey.

Dr. Rice Cowan, of Danville, presented a most entertaining and instructive essay on Pellagra, which was very highly complimented and was discussed by several members.

Dr. J. G. Carpenter then spoke on the Hookworm Disease. The eggs, embryos and hookworms were illustrated with microscopic and macroscopic drawings and he presented the subject up-to-date and highly edified the audience. The paper was discussed by most of the members.

The Medical Defense League of the Kentucky State Medical Association was then introduced by Dr. J. G. Carpenter and an invitation extended to all reputable physicians to join this league and be in the ark of safety before the evil days draw nigh, fore-warning, fore-arming each, and taking for a motto—"semper paratus."

Dr. J. B. Kinnaid appointed Drs. Singleton, Price, Cowan and J. G. Carpenter to draft appropriate resolutions in behalf of the Public Health Department to be created at Washington, D. C., with a physician for Cabinet Health officer, and so earnestly espoused by President Taft before and since his election, and the work in the same line which has been recently taken up and advocated by Senator Owens, of Oklahoma; the army, navy, State and Interstate health bureaus being included in one body, viz: the Public Health Department, with each bureau co-ordinated and subservient to the Public Health Department.

It was resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to President Taft, Senator Owens, Senator Bradley and Congressman Harvey Helm from the Central Kentucky Medical Association, requesting most sincerely that these public officials use their best efforts to secure the passage of the Owens Public Health Department bill, with a physician for a cabinet officer, to preside over this department.

Drs. R. C. McChord and Kobert, of Lebanon, were guests of the Society. The following members were present from a distance—Drs. Price and Strader, Harrodsburg; Dr. Rice Cowan, of Danville; Dr. Walter Hopper, Perryville; Dr. Roberta Carpenter, Hustonsville; Drs. Mays and McKinley, Danville; Dr. J. B. Kinnaid, Lancaster; Dr. Sowder, Mt. Vernon. The local physicians present were—Drs. O'Bannon, Peyton, Brown, Philippe, Reid, Doores and Carpenter.

Through Dr. Rice Cowan a vote of thanks was extended to Dr. J. G. Carpenter for the kind and generous hospitality extended the out-of-town members and guests, who were dined as his guests at the St. Asaph Hotel, with a bountiful cuisine.

The Society adjourned to meet in Lancaster on the 3d Thursday in July, at 10 o'clock, in honor of Dr. J. B. Kinnaid.

Veteran Very Ill.

"Uncle" Joe F. Rigney, of Poplar Hill, Casey county, is very ill, and his many friends in this and adjoining counties are uneasy over his condition. The veteran is about 70 years of age, and though a man of iron constitution and unusually good health during his long life, it is feared that his system has been so undermined that he will not be able to throw off this last illness. He is an uncle of J. F. Rigney, of this city, and well known here.

JOHN OWSELEY REID and Welch Rochester went to Louisville Saturday and returned Sunday in Mr. Reid's big motor car.

Lincoln Hounds' Good Work. Marshall Herring, of Hustonsville, passed through Danville last night with his bloodhounds. He had been to Pulaski county, where the dogs trailed down a corn thief. The corn was found and the alleged thief arrested.—Advocate.

A great many suggestions have been made as to who should be nominated as the Democratic candidate for governor since it became known that Ben Johnson is a candidate. Can any one tell us why he is not as well fitted for the office as any man that has been named? We would be pleased for those who oppose him to come out from under cover and give a valid reason for opposition to him.—Shelbyville Record.

Good friend Shinnick, in our humble estimation if the Democrats of Kentucky are desirous of enjoying four more years of Republican rule in the state after the administration headed by Gov. Willson is ended, they can insure it in no more certain way than by making Ben Johnson their nominee for Governor. There a number of reasons, we think, why this so, and we are going to give you a few of them frankly, since you have asked for them. And if you had had the opportunity, as we had, to meet with Democrats from all over the state at Frankfort during the recent legislative session, and to have heard the views of a great majority of them, regarding Democracy's next candidate for Governor, we believe that you would see where we are right.

In the first place, the vast majority of the Democrats of Kentucky—the country Democrats, who are Democrats from principle and not from hopes of political pelf, as is the case in many of the larger cities—are not going to accept with open arms a candidate for governor whose chief source of support is the notorious boss from the Buckingham Theatre, in Louisville, Col. Jno. H. Whallen. The country Democrats will doubt the sincerity and intentions of any man who is known as Whallen's candidate. Many will indeed doubt the brand of his democracy, for it is known to the world that Whallen contributed $250 to the Taft campaign fund in 1908 and has fought Bryan from first to last. A man who can so easily change his political cloak, is hardly the one to name the candidate of a great party, and especially when such a boss rarely warmly espouses the cause of any candidate, who is not entirely subservient to his master mind. Ben Johnson's alliance with Whallen and his crowd would cost him thousands of votes in the rural districts. The support of Whallen may be necessary to carry Louisville, but this is not going to be the sole consideration in the nomination of the democratic candidate for governor. The country democracy is not going to permit Whallen to name the candidate as the price of his support of the ticket. Whallen may bolt, if not given his own sweet will—the Louisville brand of democracy frequently does that—but with a man at the head of the ticket upon whom the united party out in the state has put the seal of its approval, it really makes little difference how Whallen feels about it.

And right here, it may be said that the part Ben Johnson played in alliance with the other henchmen of Whallen, in drafting the notorious gag rules in the last Kentucky Senate, does not count in his favor. Johnson was in the private councils of the leaders who wrote those rules, and suggested important parts in them. Those rules were more odious to lovers of fair play than the iron-clad rules of Cannon. How Mr. Johnson could reconcile his position against the rules of Cannon in the National House, and his suggestions in the drafting of the rules of the Kentucky Senate, would be rather hard to explain to the democrats of Kentucky, it strikes us.

Again, it has been said time and again, that one of the causes that lent toward democratic disaster in the last state campaign was the lack of ability and aggressiveness of Judge Hager as a stump speaker, and his failure as a "mixer." We speak plainly. But the truth of this is too well known; and Mr. Johnson does not excel Judge Hager as a stump speaker, and further, is as "cold as a cucumber" in a crowd. He is not the kind of a candidate that "warms up" and can rally the boys to the old flag or set them cheering and fighting for the grand old demo-crat-le party. He would not dare meet Judge O'Rear on the stump. It would be a farce from beginning to end. We can get a candidate who is a speaker; we must have one—one of the old-time "rabble rousers," as Ollie James calls them, so what's the use of going through a campaign with the feeling of a funeral, when we don't have to, and have learned better by this time?

There are other reasons why Mr.

Johnson is certainly not the logical man to nominate for governor. We have heard many reasons urged concerning him of which we know little; and many which we do not believe should be held against any man who honorably seeks the suffrages of his countrymen. We don't believe that the fact that a man has been compelled to take human life in his own defense or under circumstances which proved him in the right, should cut any figure when his candidacy for office is considered. But there is no gainsaying the fact that it does, sometimes. We do not believe it fair or just that the religious belief of any man should be even remotely considered when his candidacy for political office is suggested. The Church and the State should be kept inviolably separate. In this connection, we do not offer our own opinion in the matter, but will quote one of the foremost citizens of Frankfort, and one of our warmest personal friends, and he is a devout member of the Catholic church. He said to us:

"I know you feel as I do about it, that a man's religious views should not be thought of in politics, but I know they are, sometimes, and I know that there a great many men in the state who would not vote for Ben Johnson because he is a Catholic. I am a Catholic myself, yet I know this to be true, and I believe that for this reason alone, if no others were to be considered, it would be very unwise for the democratic party to nominate him for governor. It's a pity that everyone is not broad-minded enough to see the injustice of this, but they do not seem to be." And we agree exactly with what our friend, this leading Catholic citizen of Frankfort, has to say on this question.

These things are more or less of a personal nature, and we have not liked the task of speaking so plainly of them. We have known Mr. Johnson during his service as a State Senator at Frankfort, and personally regard him as clean and able. You have asked why he is not fitted to be the party's nominee for governor, and we have told you a few of the chief reasons that have appeared to us. In a campaign with Johnson as the nominee, the democracy would constantly be upon the defensive, explaining this or that about its candidate or trying to smooth out this or that in his political record or political connections. Why nominate a man for whom such a sacrifice would have to be made when there are so many men who can be named who would not be known as the representative of any one faction of the party, but could unite them all; who could lead the party in a splendid offensive campaign, based upon the incompetency of the party in power, and not be compelled to use all his arguments in explanation or palliation of his own short-comings? We believe that the democracy of Kentucky is alive to the situation, and is not going to be misled.
